The Hallowe'en party given Friday evening at the Grange hall by Mildred Noyes, Marion Gibson and Thelma Gerry proved to be a very enjoyable occasion. There were 26 present. Games and Hallowe'en stunts were played, and refreshments of sandwiches, apples, cake, cocoa and fancy crackers were served.

Rev. A. T. McWhorter of South Paris occupied the pulpit at the Congregational church, Sunday evening, and gave an interesting and instructive account of the meeting of the American Board, which was held in Portland, Oct. 8th and 9th.

The Ramblers enjoyed a pleasant outing at the Heyward Club house on Crockett Ridge. An excellent oyster stew with assorted cake, coffee and doughnuts was served. During the evening games were played and a general good time followed. This outing proved to be one of the pleasantest gatherings of the Ramblers this season.

Next Sunday being the World's Temperance Sunday Rev. B. C. Wentworth, pastor of the Methodist church, will preach an appropriate sermon for the day. The Sunday school also will observe the occasion with special exercises. Three short addresses will be given. Ralph Harriman will have charge of this part of the program. Helen Dunn is expected to sing at the public service.

Charles H. Sargent closed his labors for B. F. Spinney & Co. last Saturday. He has always worked in the cutting room and for the past 15 or more years he has been foreman. He has been in their employ 39 years and six months. For some years past Mr. Sargent has planned to leave but has been induced to hold on until last week. In leaving he carries with him the good will and kindest feeling of the firm he has so long served and the many hands over whom he has had charge.

NUMBER 45. NOVEMBER 8, 1912, NORWAY, MAINE. VOLUME XLIII.

Rebekah Fair.

The annual fair under the auspices of Mt. Hope Rebekah Lodge was held Wednesday afternoon and evening at I. O. O. F. hall.

The hall was prettily decorated in the lodge colors, pink and green, with twisted streamers from chandelier to chandelier. The tables were covered with white table linen with festoons of pink and green, the hall in itself being extremely pretty made a fine setting for the fair.

The fancy table was in charge of Stella Prince, Mary Reavey, Gertrude Libby, Nellie Andrews, Abbie Curtis, Grace Cushman, Merline Hayden, Clara Drake, Alida Winslow and Jennie Foster.

At the variety table were Mrs. John Swain, Mrs. Ed Burnell, Etta Buck, Linnie Bartlett, Ellie Swan, Elsie Favor, Clara Schnuer, Ella Harriman, Etta Harriman and Mrs. F. N. Barker.

The candy table was in charge of Mrs. Frank Brett assisted by Gertrude Hosmer, Charlotte Lovejoy, Alta Pottle, Lulu Fellows, Nellie Pratt, Lizzie Brooks and Myrtle Haskell.

Mrs. Perley Proctor had charge of the food table, assisted by Eunice Marston, Nina Pike and Lona Tubbs.

The apron table was in charge of Mrs. Adna Keene, assisted by Rose Webber, Emma Cullinan, Lilla Locke, May Pride, Mrs. John Judkins and Mrs. Horace Sawyer.

Mrs. Fred Lovejoy was kept busy at the fish pond both afternoon and evening, where both young and old fished for mysterious packages.

Ice cream, sherbert and cake were served in the ante room by Addie Stevens, Nellie Shepard and Maude DeCoster. The chafing dish dainties were served by Edith Palmer and Marion Libby.

During the evening the following entertainment was given:

Trio
Violin	Marion Haskell
Cornet	Arthur Morgan
Piano	Mrs. Lizzie Brooks
Duet	Beryl and Myrtle Millett
Violin solo	Marion Haskell
Accompanist	Ruth Cummings
Reading	Chrystal Harriman
Trio, Violin, cornet, piano
Solo	Bessie Chase
Accompanist	Daisy Chase
Trio

The entertainment committee was Nora Bradbury, Ada Libby, Eva Kimball and Kate Mann.

Thursday evening, Nov. 7th, the drama entitled the Old New Hampshire Home will be presented at the Opera House by local talent for the benefit of the Rebekahs.

Ghosts at the Pike Cottage.

A very enjoyable evening was spent Thursday at the Pike Cottage on Turkey Ridge, when Mrs. L. F. Pike and Mrs. D. L. Joselyn entertained a party of friends at a Hallowe'en social. The party left the village about 6 30, dressed in white sheets and pillow cases, and wended their way toward Turkey Ridge, where they were met by a ghost bearing a Jack-O'-Lantern, who led them down through the pasture, over the rocks to a huge bonfire, with occasional ghosts appearing here and there. Not a word was spoken by the ghosts, and after waiting at the bonfire a short time at the summons of a strange noise on the hill, the ghosts led the way to the cottage, where the guests were made comfortable on the piazza until supper was in readiness. A delicious supper was served, consisting of two kinds of baked beans, brown bread, white bread, squashpie, assorted cake, pickles, coffee and molasses doughnuts; after which hypnotizing, spearing the pumpkin, eating apples, counting the seeds, clap in and clap out and mind reading by Jean Towle, and at a late hour the party returned to their homes.

Seventeen of these mysterious white robed beings were seen up around the Pike's Camp. Some were more ghostly than others and had great fiery eyes which made you tremble to look upon them. The groans and wind sounds which penetrated every part of the woods made one feel very shakey indeed. Mr. Pike seemed to be prepared to drive all the witches and hobgoblins away by the large campfire which illumined the whole hillside. The ghosts were not long in taking forms of human beings.

Mrs. L. J. Brooks is working in the stitching at the shoe factory.

Harry Lane of Portland was an over-Sunday guest of Mr. and Mrs. Percy H. Nevers.

Mr. and Mrs. M. W. Sampson are spending several weeks with friends in Waterford.

Mrs. Addie Wentworth, who has been visiting relatives in Bridgton, has returned home.

Helen Holmes, who has been visiting her cousins in Salmon Falls, N. H., has returned home.

Francis Swett, who is attending Bates, spent Sunday with his parents, Mr. and Mrs. E. N. Swett.

Gladys Parker is stopping with Mrs. Ross Bickford while Mr. Bickford is on a trip to Houlton.

Mrs. Freeland Howe, jr., returned from Bangor last week, where she has been visiting relatives.

Josiah Dutton, who has been spending the past year at Leonard Flint's, is now visiting in Bangor and vicinity.

H. L. Horne is installing a new furnace at his residence on Main street. William C. Leavitt Co. are putting in the furnace.

Lucy Emmons of Bethel and Mrs. L. J. Yates of Greenwood have been recent guests of Mr. and Mrs. C. A. Richardson.

Mrs. Frank Faunce is visiting her sisters, Mrs. Caroline Hall of Weymouth and Mrs. Mary Hooper of Atlantic, Mass.

Asa Richardson of Greenwood is working for his brother, C. A. Richardson, at the meat market and is boarding at his brother's.

George Wilkins of Berwick returned to his home, Monday. While here Mr. Wilkins sold his residence on Beal street to Lincoln Holmes.

Etta Nevers is stopping with her sister, Mrs. Llewellyn H. Cushman, while her parents are visiting their son, Dr. Harry Nevers, at Lawrence, Mass.

T. M. Heath is building a shed at the rear of his residence at the corner of Horne and Main streets, to house his lumber, blocks and trucking materials.

Mrs. Ansel Cushman, who has been stopping with her brother in Sodom during the summer, has returned and is stopping with her daughter, Mrs. Etta Norseworthy.

It Was a Success.

While an immense pumpkin Jack o' lantern smiled a cordial welcome, a jolly crowd gathered at the home of Mr. and Mrs. A. T. Bennett for the Hallowe'en celebration given under the auspices of the Ladies' aid of the Methodist church. The house was prettily decorated with all the Hallowe'en emblems.

At 6.30 a bountiful supper was served to 75 guests. It consisted of baked beans, vegetable hash, salads, pickles, doughnuts, bread, coffee, pies, puddings and cakes of many kinds.

During the evening an old-time Salem witch appeared with broom and black cat much in evidence. Her daughter, (a very small witch) was with her. She carried a basket filled with Hallowe'en souvenirs, while the daughter had a tray of pins, not to be used as witches were accused of doing in the long ago, sticking them into people, but just to pin on the souvenirs.

After supper the fun commenced and continued until a late hour. The ones who worked so hard to find out what the future held for them seemed satisfied with the result.

The ring became the property of one of your representative young women (and did some one mention a boy scout?) The thimble fell to the lot of a business woman who knows well how to use it and make things hum; and the button! a school teacher got that. What an awful fate it foretells, but she doesn't care, not a bit. Next is what we are all looking for, money. The fortunate one says they will now neither borrow or lend, so it is of no use to tell who it was. Those who drew blanks in the contest hope to have a chance to try again next year with better success.

Mrs. O. L. Stone had charge of the entertainment and it was good.

As is their custom at all suppers given by them, the Ladies' Aid remembered the sick and shut-ins, believing that in this way, they are doing the Master's bidding.

Basket Ball and Dance.

The first basket ball game of the season was held Friday evening at the Opera House. The attendance was very good considering the stormy evening.

The game was between the Norway Red Sox Club and the Norway High school team and a very interesting game played. The Red Sox team was a little heavier than the high school team but they played a good game and did themselves credit. Line-up as follows:

Norway High School 10.

Klaim, rf	2
Shepard, lf	1 1 1 1
Chute, c	2 2
Buck, rg
F. Haskell, lg
McDaniels, rg

Norway Red Sox Club 33.

Thompson, lf	1 1 2 2 2 2 1
Farnum, rf	2 2 2
McKay, c
P. Haskell, rg	2 2 2

James Brown of North Waterford has been in Norway this week. He is on his way south where he will spend the winter as has been the custom for a few years. Mr. Brown has suffered a shock, though he is able to walk out of doors some with aid. He has two nurses to care for him.

Mrs. Lottie Crane of Norway Lake had lettuce for dinner, Sunday, raised by parties at Frost Corner. A peculiar thing about lettuce is that if it freezes and is allowed to thaw in the field with out wetting it or trying to thraw it in any way, it will not be injured by a freeze or frost.

Abigail Whitman Chapter, D. A. R. met with Mrs. E. E. Andrews at her pleasant home on Main street, Wednesday evening. The roll call was quotations from "The Courtship of Miles Standish." Mrs. Edith S. Bartlett read an instructive paper on "The Pilgrams and the Puritans" in her usually convincing manner. She particularly emphasized the fact that of the one hundred Pilgrims, who came over in the Mayflower with Capt. Miles Standish, only forty-eight survived the hardships and dangers of the New England climate. From that forty-eight are the only descendents of the Pilgrims. The Puritans included not only the Pilgrims but the larger number of fifteen hundred that came later across the ocean, and others. Refreshments of ice cream and cake were served by the hostess.

William Haskell is moving from the Marr house to the Horace Dinsmore house on Beal street.

Henry Spinney has been appointed superintendent at the shoe factory, and assumed his duties, Monday.

Mrs. Altce Marston has rented rooms of Allie Buck, corner of Main and Whitman streets, where she will make her home.

Mr. and Mrs. Henry Thurston and son Roland of Portland spent Sunday with Mrs. Thurston's mother, Mrs. Ellen Wetzler.

Mr. and Mrs. Charles Seavey, who have been living at North Norway, have moved into Mrs. Alma Bailey's rent on Main street.

A free entertainment will be given Friday evening at the Grange Hall by the Ct. Rustfield I. N. F. Refreshments will also be served free.

Mrs. Sarah Hill and daughter Ada of Bridgton, who have been spending several days with their cousin, Mrs. George Bennett, returned home, Sunday.

Mrs. Ed. Loud of Kearsarge, N. H., and Mrs. J. W. Howe of Lovell, who have been visiting their sister, Mrs. J. W. Nash, returned to their homes, Monday.

The Dennis Pike Real Estate Agency has negotiated the sale of the M. D. Churchill cottage house on Hezen street, Norway village, to Ernest H. Maxim of Paris.

Mrs. Stephen McAllister, who has been caring for Mrs. Melissa Libby and Mrs. Sarah Bridges, has returned to her home and Mrs. Agnes Lovis is caring for them.

Mrs. Susan Dudley of North Bridgton returned to her home last Saturday, after visiting Mrs. Ellen Wetzler. Mrs. Dudley expects to spend the winter in California.

The Norway Christian Science Society will hold their meetings in the future at the K. of P. hall instead of the Golden Eagle hall, as formerly. The order of service will be at 10.30 a. m.

Mrs. F. N. Barker is visiting her daughters, Genevieve and Marjorie at Waterville. The girls are students at Colby College. Genevieve spent the week end with her father, Dr. F. N. Barker.

The Swastika club and a few invited guests celebrated Hallowe'en by a supper and evening's entertainment at George Hobbs' place on Pike Hill. Games were played during the evening and refreshments of ice cream and cake served.

Mrs. Orrin Edgecomb, who has been ill with fever, is convalescent. Her daughter, Mrs. Victor Partridge, who has been stopping with her, returned to her home at Norway Lake, Saturday, and her daughter, Mrs. Olive Frost, is spending the week with her.

Mr. and Mrs. Phillip Everett, who have been living on Water street with Mrs Everett's parents, Mr. and Mrs. William Stone, have moved into Bert Frost's rent on Bridge street. Mr. Everett is engaged by Mr. Frost in his livery stable.

The Waterford and Norway Dairy Test Association will hold their next meeting at Norway Grange hall, November 13th, 1912. A dinner as usual. Work will commence soon after dinner. Russell Smith from Augusta is expected for a speaker. It is hoped all who are interested in dairying will be present.

The democrats celebrated their victory Thursday evening by blowing the Cummings whistle, marching, music, etc. The Cummings boys are not on the victorious side this year, but some of their help are and they kindly(?) loaned them the use of their whistle, the like of which for noise is not equalled in the United States of America. It is understood this is only a foretaste of the celebration a little later.

Mr. and Mrs. Ira Hewison have gone to Chatham, N. B., where Mr. Hewison is to take charge of the estate of his uncle, D. A. MacLean, who was accidentally shot while hunting a few weeks ago. Mr. Hewison intends to return to Auburn in the spring and will conduct his business at Lake Grove during the summer running the passenger launch "Alice."

The Veranda club met with Alta Sheen on Thursday evening, Oct. 24, to the great surprise of the hostess. Several came in spite of the rain. A pleasant evening was spent and a fine treat was served. Mr. Sheen brought in some of his fine celery and all did ample justice to it. The club will meet again with Mrs. Sheen, Thursday evening, Nov. 14. It is hoped the weather will be more favorable.

The Universalist Ladies' Mission Circle met with Mrs. M. A. Oxnard, Wednesday afternoon. This season they are studying "The Frontier," which deals with the conditions of western life, and is the story of missions in the west. The Circle is meeting each Tuesday afternoon with Mrs. June Hutchins to sew for needy families. Contributions of clothing or bedding will be gladly received and there are those who need these.

The Barton Reading club met with Mrs. George I. Cummings in her new home on Pike Hill, Oct. 31st. "The Women of the Bible," was the topic for the afternoon, and some very interesting and instructive readings were given, as each one read or told of a different character. After the meeting adjourned there was time to inspect and admire the beautiful house, and the views from the windows and piazza. Fourteen were present and all voted it an enjoyable afternoon.

Norway Anchor lodge, I. O. G. T., No. 32, installed officers at their hall Monday night as follows:

C. T.—D. L. Joslyn.
V. T.—Mrs. Laura Stevens.
Chap.—Mrs. Mary E. McAllister.
Sec.—Emma Stone.
Fin. Sec.—Harland E. Kimball.
M.—Clarence Stevens.
D. M.—Ada Merrill.
Guard—Mrs. Ada Gammon.
Sent.—Mrs. Eliza Merrill.

There was a good delegation present from Victory lodge of Lisbon Falls, also one grand lodge member. Refreshments were served after the work.

Sophia Tufts is visiting friends in town.

Harold Goldthwait spent the day Sunday, in Lewiston.

Millie Bridges of Auburn is visiting her mother, Mrs. Sarah Bridges.

Mrs. Walter Stearns spent Saturday in Lewiston with her son, Carl Stearns.

Richard Verrill of Livermore is visiting his nephew, Fred Davis, and family.

Mrs. Charles Millett of Millettville was the guest of Mrs. R. O. Porter, Tuesday.

R. O. Porter has had a telephone installed in his residence on Water street.

There will be a democratic caucus at Norway Hall, Saturday, Nov. 16, at 2 o'clock p. m., to choose a nominee for the position of deputy sheriff for this town. Name to be presented to sheriff-elect Frothingham.

A special assembly of Oxford Council, No. 14, R. & S. M., will be held at Masonic hall in Bethel, Tuesday, Nov. 12, under dispensation from the Grand Council of Maine, to act upon applications and confer degrees. Special train will leave Norway at 6 15 o'clock, p. m., stopping at all intermediate stations for the accommodation of Council members along the line, and returning after the work.

Thursday from early morning until late at night, Opera House was the objective point for the citizens of the town. Automobiles were brought into use and conveyed voters all day. After the balloting was over it found for Norway that Roosevelt received 313 votes; Wilson, 297; Taft, 95; Socialist, 7; Prohibition, 13; spoiled, 8; total 733. During the evening, returns were received at the Opera House, which was well filled. The new band was practicing in the armoury after which they took their places on the stage and demonstrated between reports.

Yaggar Neighborhood.

John Austin has sold his apples to C. G. French.

Frank Mills is packing apples for E'mer Twitchell.

Harold and Alton Howe expect to leave next week for a few days' hunting trip.

Friends of Mrs. Malcolm Briggs in this neighborhood will be interested to learn of the new arrival of a baby boy. Mrs. Briggs was formerly Dora Mills.

Democrats can crow now but wait till the four years have passed. They may be like Job's turkey, which was so poor he had to stand up against the fence to gobble.

Miles Adams, who has been working on the town farm this summer, has hired out to work for W. G. Adams in the woods in Stow. He expects to leave the town farm in about a week.

Charles Knightly helped Freeland Adams dress a hog on the town farm, Monday, that dressed 575 pounds. Mr. Knightly is going to live with his brother, Fred Knightly, this winter.

Pike Hill Neighborhood.

George Dunn lost a valuable cow recently.

S. M. Millett has his new well nearly completed.

H. M. Goodwin has recently made a large shipment of poultry.

Hazel Foster, our teacher, attended the teachers' convention at Portland.

In three evenings the Goodwin boys captured four skunks and one porcupine.

Annie Shank is visiting in Providence, R. I. Her sister Lena is a popular teacher there.

Mrs. D. W. and Mrs. H. M. Goodwin spent Friday at J. B. Frost's. Gladys Frost has a new piano.

Thaddeus Roberts and Harry Goodwin called on Wm Thayer of Paris recently. Mr. Thayer is a poultry raiser.

Henry Hodgdon is somewhat improved. He sits up a great deal and is able to walk with the aid of canes.

The Pike Hill schoolhouse has been repaired. It has been treated to a coat of paint, newly papered and whitewashed. Mr. Walker did the work.

F. T. Pike and D. W. Goodwin are hauling apples for shipment. Mr. Pike and Mr. Goodwin sold their apples to A. L. Pike and we understand they are to be shipped to England. U. S. G. Abbott tells us he had about 400 barrels this year.

SOUTH PARIS.

The Ladies of the Baptist church will hold an apron and food sale, Nov. 21st.

Morton V. Bolster attended the Bates-Bowdoin foot ball game, Saturday, at Brunswick.

William J. Wheeler has been a recent guest of his daughter, Mrs. Roy E. Cole, at Canton, Mass.

Isabelle Goodwin has returned from Massachusetts where she has been spending several weeks.

The South Paris High school has organized a track and the boys are practicing each night.

Larger basement windows are being put in the front of Clark's harness store under the post office.

Mrs. Davis Lovejoy of Bethel visited her mother, Mrs. Churchill, and her sister, Mrs. Tom Mayhew.

J. A. Noyes has been doing a good job, grading and building concrete walks at his house on High street.

Charles E. Brett, who has been on a Western trip for the past two weeks, returned home Saturday night.

Mrs. George B. Crockett went to Massachusetts, Thursday, to visit her daughters in Haverhill and Newton.

Alton Ames has purchased W. L. Farrar's place on High street, where he and his son, William Ames, will reside.

Rawson-McBride.

Cards have been received announcing the marriage of Perley Edward Rawson, a former Paris boy, to Elizabeth Mary, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Andrew McBride of Dorchester, Mass., Monday, Oct. 21st.

The ceremony took place at 15 Roseland street, the home of Mrs. J. L. Bridgham, the groom's mother. George R. Penley of Lynn, Mass., was best man and a sister of the bride attended as bridesmaid. Only a few relatives were present.

Many useful and valuable presents were received. C. H. Porter, the Boston grocer for whom both Mr. and Mrs. Rawson have worked a number of years, remembered them with $50 in gold.

At home after November the first, at 15 Roseland street, Dorchester.

Mrs. Luella Smiley spent the day, Wednesday, in Portland.

Mr. and Mrs. Sam Flemming, who have been spending several months with Mr. Flemming's relatives in Europe, returned Sunday morning, and report a most enjoyable trip.

The classes of the Methodist Sunday school, Nos. 3, 4, 5, 8-11, including the young and adult children of the school, will be given a supper by the officers and teachers of the school, Friday evening, at the vestry.

The high school social will be held at the high school building, Friday evening. Since the moving picture show has occupied New Hall, the seats in the high school building have been arranged so that they can be removed and the socials held there, and it is much more convenient and economical.

Early Wednesday morning as Francis Chapman looked out of one of the windows of his home on the Paris Hill road, he saw a deer and seizing his gun went out and shot at it. The deer started for the woods and he and his father, Eben Chapman, started in pursuit and in a short time shot the deer, which weighed about 162 pounds.

Arrangements are being made for the teachers' and parents' social to be held at Deering Memorial church, November 19th, under the auspices of the W. C. T. U. This is to be a social occasion and topics of interest to both parents and teachers will be duly discussed, and it is earnestly hoped that all the parents and those interested in the young people will be present.

Mrs. Wallace R. Tarbox, State President of Maine Ladies' G. A. R., visited six Circles last week, two in Waterville, one in Norridgewock, one in Madison, one in North Anson, and Saturday evening William K. Kimball at South Paris. Most excellent work is being done by this organization and they are a great help to the Veterans in their last years. Mrs. Tarbox complimented the Circle in South Paris on their fine work, also their generosity to respond at all times to aid the Department. Very pleasing remarks were made by the State officers and Comrades.

Tested and Proven

There is a Heap of Solace in Being Able to Depend Upon a Well Earned Reputation.

For months the Advertiser readers have seen the constant expression of praise for Doan's Kidney Pills, and read about the good work they have done in this locality. What other remedy ever produced such convincing proof of merit?

Mrs. Joseph A. Woods, Summer St., Norway, Me., says: "I am thankful for what Doan's Kidney Pills did for me. You can continue publishing the statement I gave in their praise some years ago. I had been annoyed by backache and kidney trouble for a long time. I tried many remedies but got no relief until I began using Doan's Kidney Pills. Two boxes helped me in every way. I also wish to say that Doan's Kidney Pills cured my little son of kidney weakness and made his health a great deal better." 44-45

For sale by all dealers. Price 50 cts. Foster-Milburn Co., Buffalo, New York sole agents for the United States.

Remember the name—Doan's—and no other.

The Crab Apple Tree.

The leaves are all gone
From the crab apple tree,
Yet the apples dance on
In the autumn breeze.

Such a beautiful basket
You never saw,
Like a rose in a casket
Without one flaw.

So gaily are they dressed
In scarlet and in gold
With a nut brown crest
Where the stem will hold.

Onto the swaying apple bough
Through sun and rain,
When cold winds sough
A desolate refrain.

Their sound and ruddy cheeks,
A scarlet mass of flames.
Of winter harvest speaks,
'Tis welcome here again.

North Waterfrod. L. F. LORD.

I Want One Too.

When the fields are bright with blossoms, or the roads are white with snow,
I can hear the merry honking of the horns where'er I go,
As the cars in long procession, speeding by are lost in view.
Everybody has an auto, oh! I want one too.
Black and brown and brilliant yellow, red and blue and gray and green.
Touring car and giant racer, runabout and limousine.
Undersiung, topedo bodies, models old and models new.
Everybody has an auto and I want one too.
Young and old, and high and humble, lawyer doctor, millionaire,
Actor, author, priest, professor, college boy and maiden fair.
Butcher, baker, grocer, farmer, lo! no matter what they do,
Every body has an auto, so I want one too.

Lovell, Me. Written by a Correspondent.

HEBRON.

Word has been received of the birth of a son to the wife of Henry Bearce of Washington, D. C., Oct. 27.

The Harvest Home at Hebron Tuesday afternoon and evening last week was a success. The sale of fruit, vegetables, ice cream, home made candy, fancy work, supper and entertainment were well patronized and a goodly sum realized. The entertainment consisted of selections by the academy school orchestra; vocal solos by Rev. Mr. Lamb of Buckfield; instrumental solos by Lucy Teague and Alice Barden; readings by Miss Buck of Portland; exercises by the children of Nora Pugsley's school; and a reading by Ethel Marshall. The total receipts were $133, Warren Tibbetts of Auburn came with his coffee, as usual, which he made and served.

The Youth's Companion for 1913.

The Youth's Companion appeals to every interest of family life, from housekeeping to athletics. It begins with stories of youthful vim and vigor, with articles which disclose the secrets of successful play in the great games, with charming tales of life at the girls' colleges. But The Companion does not surrender these readers when they have entered the more serious paths of life. Mothers will welcome the page for little children and the weekly doctor's article. Fathers will find the important news of the day in it, and not as it is rumored to be. The entire household will appreciate the sketches which touch gently on common foibles of caricature eccentricity. In short, for less than four cents a week The Companion brings into the home clean entertainment, pure inspiration, fine ideals, increase of knowledge.

Names rarely seen in tables of contents will be found in The Companion's Announcement for 1913, which will be sent upon request—with samples of the paper, to those not familiar with it.

Every new subscriber for 1913 will receive free all the issues for the remaining weeks of 1912; also, free, The Companion Window Transparency and Calender for 1913, in rich, translucent colors—the most beautiful of all Companion souvenirs. adv.

Mr. and Mrs. Thomas DeCoster of Houlton have been visiting Mrs. DeCoster's mother, Mrs. Ella Bradeen.

The sale and dance given by Buckfield Grange was well attended, and a tidy sum was added to the Grange fund.

Althea Stetson, who teaches the Allen school, has been sick with the grippe and unable to teach a few days.

John D. Gerrish has moved from his farm in Sumner to Buckfield village. His son John will continue to live on the farm.

Mordaunt Rowe's six year old son, Mordaunt, has been operated on for appendicitis. He is being cared for by a trained nurse.

RUMFORD.

Mr. and Mrs. B. A. Evans spent Sunday in Bryant's Pond.

Ethel Warhurst, manager of the W. U. Telegraph office has returned from her vacation.

John Tucker of Sanford visited his parents, Mr. and Mrs. A. S. Tucker of Penobscot street, recently.

There was a large attendance at the chicken pie supper at the M. E. church, Tuesday evening of last week.

BETHEL.

Mr. and Mrs. Harlan Clough have gone to Lynn, Mass.

Stillman Littlehale has his new house on Vernon street nearly completed.

Clement Wood and Albert Clark have entered Shaw's Business College at Portland.

Una Roberts of Hanover is visiting at Mr. and Mrs. D. S. Hastings' and other friends.

Mrs. L. L. Pennock of East Waterford will spend the winter with her daughter, Mrs. Fred Tyler.

About one thousand salmon have been put into Songo pond from the State Fish Hatcheries of Auburn.

Mrs. Estelle Bartlett of Dorchester, Mass., is visiting her uncle and aunt, Mr. and Mrs. D. S. Hastings.

Mr. and Mrs. Robert Wormell and little daughter of Portland have been guests of her parents, Mr. and Mrs. C. L. Davis.

Mrs. Ruby Chesley, who has spent the week with her aunt, Mrs. Eli Stearns, who was ill, has returned to her home in Portland.

Algernon Chapman, while using an axe in the barn let the axe slip, cutting the top of his right foot badly so that he has been confined to the house. His daughter, Mrs. Peter Witts of Portland, has been caring for him.

Rev. and Mrs. J. H. Little were at Brunswick last week to attend the Centennial of the Brunswick Universalist church and the Bowdoinham Universalist church. Mr. Little was a former pastor at each place, and at that meeting gave the history of the Brunswick church.

Ed Lyon and F. L. Edwards went hunting one evening in their auto by moonlight. They started after nine o'clock and by 11:30 they had seen three deer which were in a crowd together and seemed fascinated by the lights of the auto.

Treasurer's Office.
Augusta, Oct. 21, 1912.

Pursuant to Chap. 9, Sec. 44, of the Revised Statutes, as amended by Chap. 226 of the Public Laws of 1909, I will at the Treasurer of State's office at Augusta, on the twenty-sixth day of November, next, at 11 o'clock A. M., sell and convey by deed to the highest bidder, all the interest of the State in the tracts of land hereinafter described, lying in unincorporated townships, said tracts having been forfeited to the State for non-payment of State, County and Forestry District Taxes, certified to the Treasurer of State for the year 1910. The sale and conveyance of each tract will be made subject to a right in the owner or part owner whose rights have been forfeited, to redeem the same at any time within one year after the sale; by paying or tendering to the purchaser his proportion of what the purchaser paid therefor at the sale with interest at the rate of twenty per cent. per annum from the time of sale, and one dollar for release, or such owner may redeem his interest by paying as aforesaid to the Treasurer of State as provided in Chap. 9, Sec. 46, of the Revised Statutes.

No tract, however, will be sold at a price less than the full amount due thereon for such unpaid State, County and Forestry District taxes, interest and costs, as described in the following schedule:

A WINTER COAT

not only keeps cold out, but conserves body-warmth; body-fat serves the same purpose, it enables us to resist unsettled elements and serves as the great source of our body-heat. Greater body-warmth means richer blood, more fat, not obesity but fat which the body consumes for warmth, vitality, resistance-power—as a furnace consumes coal for heat—Scott's Emulsion does this:

A teaspoonful after each meal makes body-warmth—healthy, active blood—sharpens the appetite and makes all good food do good.

It drives out and keeps out colds by raising endurance-power and creating strength.

L. F. MEDICINE

Used by Three Generations

In thousands of families all through the cities and towns of the State. Though the science of medicine in aiding nature to bring about cures is sometimes said to be an experiment, "L. F." Atwood's Medicine as a relief for constipation, indigestion, inactive liver and other similar troubles, is so sure and the results so beneficial that it has become a standard remedy for restoring health throughout New England.

Read what M. J. Lothrop says:—

"I think your "L. F." Atwood's Medicine the best for Dyspepsia of anything I ever used. My mother took it 40 years ago; my father uses it all the time and would not think of getting along without it. I use it in my family." M. J. Lothrop, Notch, Me.

Looking Backward

In Otisfield.

By GRANVILLE FERNALD.

No. VII.

"I will lift up mine eyes unto the Hills."

I cannot enough thank the good friend who first suggested the subject of "The Highlands of Otisfield" to me in a brief Advertiser sketch. It is a most inspiring theme, and any life-long resident of the town, who has failed to be impressed with the grandeur of the broad elevations of the land, their contour and relative distances from each other, as one stands on the sheer summit of "the Hill," (back in the edge of the Knight great field, now growing up to gray birches) and looks abroad in every direction, not farther than the outlines of the town, he or she must certainly be insensitive to the evidences of Supreme wisdom in the designing and formation of the wonderful face of Nature; and incapable of realizing the conception of the inspired writer: "the deep places of the earth and the strength of the hills."

Of all the hills in Otisfield or in any other town, known to me, the one known as "the hill" is most truly unique in form and in comparison to others.

Otisfield Hill is practically a cone in form, rising symmetrically on all sides from the general surrounding levels, from the summit of which an unobstructed view is to be had in almost every direction for twenty-five to nearly one hundred miles.

The White Mountain range with Mt. Washington in the center and highest, is conspicuous the whole year, Tuckerman's Ravine showing a white streak of snow or ice even as late as July in some years. To the right of Mt. Washington all around the northern frontier to the southeastern border of Oxford county at Hebron and Oxford we behold across the hills of Albany, Norway, Waterford and other nearby towns a still further range of highlands bounding the vision in the direction of the upper Androscoggin and the lakes of Northern Oxford County.

To the left, southerly from the great white peak, is a range of sightly peaks,—Mt. Kearsarge near North Conway, Mt. Chocorua, Wonalancet and the more southerly hills of the Ossipee region.

This memory of the grand outlook from Otisfield hill, including Pleasant Mountain in Denmark and Bear Mountain in South Waterford is so accurate from the observations of nearly three generations of time that I believe it will hardly be questioned.

Otisfield has several notable hills with names derived from local traditions or circumstances. In this respect it is much like its near neighbors, Norway and Waterford. But neither of these have any highland with so far away outlook in all directions as Otisfield Hill; neither has Harrison with its famous Summit Hill.

The highlands of Otisfield are the larger part of it. The northerly section, comprising the elevation extending southerly from the Norway line through the "Gore" district, particularly the hill which is the highest point on the road from Ryefield Bridge to the Gore schoolhouse and beyond to Webber's is one of the principal highlands of the town.

In my first remembrance of the families who lived along that road at its summit were Benjamin Stevens, an elderly man, father of a family of sons whom I remember. One of them, Cyrus, the youngest of the family I think, met with a sad and fatal accident while riding down hill in company with a young lady. They had a young, spirited horse and by some accident to the harness the horse became frightened and commenced kicking up with both feet, when Mr. Stevens placed himself in a position to protect his lady friend from the danger from the heels of the horse, and received in his own person several violent blows from the kicks of the horse, from the effects of which his death soon ensued. That event was one of the most mournful which occurred in the town in or about the 4th decade of the century—more than sixty years ago.

The highland just described continues on the westerly side of Moose Pond excepting a considerable depression toward Crooked River, and becomes very prominent two miles further south, where it is crossed by the county road from Bolster's Mills to Otisfield Hill and Casco. The highest point on that road before the Hill is reached is the residence of Cyrus Brett, known to old-time townspeople as the Thad Turner place.

But the summit of that hill is many rods away from the old Turner house across a broad field about the line of the Capt. Britton farm as I knew it in my boyhood; I mean the farm for many years past owned and occupied by George Bucknell. It was behind that hill crowned with a grove of tall red-oak trees the sun used to set when I first learned that the place of sunset was in the West; and in a very few years after I and my brothers used to go up to Capt. Britton's pasture and gather acorns to keep in the winter. That picture of the sunset behind the Britton pasture grove is as vivid to my mind's eye as if it had been seen yesterday.

On the southern declivity of the hill I have described were located the farms of Dea. John Hancock and Abraham Green, who were sons of Elias Hancock and Jedediah Green respectively of the first generation of pioneer settlers.

On the westerly slope of the hill were the farms of Oliver Hancock, Dennis Lovewell, Daniel Chute and John Green, whose father and predecessor was Hezekiah Green. The elevation of these farms was very high above the near valley of Crooked River and the plains bordering the stream, and was a part of the true system of Highlands of the town.

This hill descends to the swamp near the former residence of Roland Hancock, whose son, Timothy Hancock, succeeded him as owner and who was noted for his industry, excellent character as a citizen and his dexterity in the use of the axe and other farm implements. He raised a family of my own generation, but they have been long gone from my remembrance.

Col. Francis Chute and Simeon Turner owned farms adjoining on a ridge of land which is a continuation of that highland on the western border of the town which at the old home of Capt. Henry Turner (which is the highest point on the road from Bolster's Mills to Spurr's Corner) marks the notable ascent to the height known as "Porcupine Hill," one of the most conspicuous highlands of the town.

Within my remembrance, nearly all the territory beyond Porcupine Hill to Crooked River, to Oak Hill, was a wilderness. That was years before the settlement of Scribner's Mills was commenced in 1848, in which first invasion of that unsettled territory on either side of the river the writer had a little part, having been as assistant of his father, Otis Fernald, one of the builders of the original saw-mill now the property of Scribner brothers.

The road leading from Bolster's Mills across the plains to Scribner's Mills and onward around the southern declivity of Porcupine Hill was located in the late 40's on the petition of Worthy C. Barrows and others, and opened up to settlement a fertile section of the town, later to the present time occupied by a number of prosperous families.

My first acquaintance with the territory between Porcupine Hill and the river was a number of years before the beginning of Scribner's Mills and the building of the new road. There was no opening in the woods back of Porcupine Hill except a few acres of grass land belonging to Dea. John Hancock. It was down at the place where David Lamb afterward built a brick dwelling house, in which I remember to have done some work in the finishing.

The grass in the field I have mentioned was purchased of Deacon Hancock by my father, and W. C. Barrows (the pioneer of the present Scribner's Mills) and I helped to do the haying that year. Our road to the haying field was by Col. Chute's house across a pasture and through a long piece of woods.

Not long afterward I assisted in the erection of a barn at an opening made by Johnson K. Lovewell in that part of the town which has flourished under the name of "Tamworth," which has been at one time populous enough for a good sized school district. More about Highlands anon.

Friday evening the Wokelo Club met at the home of Mrs. C. E. Valentine. The young gentlemen who form Mrs. Upton's class at Sabbath school were guest of the club, making in all twenty young people present. Tests of memory were tried and prizes given to those showing the best record. The company then went to the kitchen and made fudge, popcorn brittle and other delicious concoctions. Altogether a very merry evening was spent, the only regret being the absence of Mrs. Upton on account of illness in the family.

Middle Intervale.

Mrs. Oliver was at the funerel of her sister, Mrs. Will Bean, at Locke Mills, Sunday. Mrs. Bean leaves several small children, the youngest a babe. Mr. and Mrs. Bean were both pupils of the writer some years ago near where they now live and both smart children. She was a remarkably lovely little girl and it is to be regretted that her life for a few years has been one of so much suffering. Sh leaves a husband and an aged mother who lives at the home and will doubtless care for the infant. Mr. Bean has a po sition in the mill at Locke Mills. Mrs. Bean leaves several sisters and other relatives. She was so young and leaves such young children who need a mother's care.

Chas. Cummings has returned from Canton and is at work at J. P. Penley's.

SUMNER.

J. D. Jordan.

J. D. Jordan died in Los Angeles, California, Oct. 21st in the forty-ninth year of his age. He had been in failing health for two years and left his home in Kingman, Arizona, hoping to be benefitted by the change. About a month previous to his death he submitted to an operation in the Clara Barton Hospital, which revealed his trouble to be cancer of the stomach.

He was removed to apartments in the city and ministered to by a devoted wife and by two sisters who did what they could, but his days were numbered.

Mr. Jordan was born in the town of Sumner, County of Oxford, Maine, leaving his home town about thirty-one years ago. He lived some time in Denver and Cripple Creek, Col., eventually crossing to Kingman, Arizona where he settled down to his life work of mining engineer.

Eight years ago he was married to Miss Nora Ealy, his happy home life proving the wisdom of his choice. He was blessed with many friends. Coming of a God-fearing face, death held no fears, its only bitterness being the parting from loved ones.

He was a member of I. O. O. F. Kingman Lodge, No. 7 and the funeral services were under the auspices of that order. He was brought to Sumner for interment, his friend of earlier years, Kirk Spaulding making all necessary arrangements and rests in accordance with his wish, beside the graves of his father and mother.

Mr. Jordan leaves a wife, little daughter and four sisters to mourn his loss.

Mrs. Hiram Buck is very poorly.

Mrs. Amy Stetson is on the sick list.

Mrs. Laura J. Bartlett is working for Mrs. Amy Stetson.

Charles Berry has been picking apples for H. Bartlett of Hartford.

HEBRON.

Fire in Academy Building.

Tuesday at 8 a. m., fire was discovered in the bulkhead on the north side of the academy building. The fire was discovered by Miss Chase, who immediately notified the chaplain. When the fire apparatus arrived at the scene, a small fire was burning on the roof while a larger one was burning in the bulkhead. Luckily no wind was blowing and the fire was confined to the bulkhead and roof. The damage will be small. Being discovered before it had gained much headway and also the timely arrival of students prevented much damage to the academy buildings. The fire was declared out in about one hour.

The community was much surprised Oct. 31, when the sudden death of S. O. Wiley at his home in Bridgton after only a few days' illness was announced. He had been a resident in this section for many years, but as he advanced in age he gave up the cares of farming, sold his property and bought a home in Bridgton village. The interment was in the family lot at West Fryeburg, Nov. 2.

In addition to the article on page 6, we print the following of Samuel O. Wiley of Bridgton, who died after an illness of only four days of stoppage of the bowels. His birth place was in Conway, N. H. He was the son of Seth S. and Susan (Osgood) Wiley. He received his education in the public schools of Conway and Fryeburg, and was for half a century and esteemed citizen of West Fryeburg and a successful farmer. He served on the Fryeburg board of selectment and other public offices. He leaves a brother, William Wiley of Danvers, Mass., and one sister, Mrs. J. Alvin Jones. In politics he was a democrat. He was an attendent of the Universalist church. The funeral was from his late home in Bridgton, Rev. Mr. McKenney, officiating clergyman. The bearers were T. L. Eastman, D. A. Ballard, Wesley McKeen and Henry Andrews of Fryeburg, who accompanied the remains to Fryeburg, where interment was in the family lot in West Fryeburg cemetery by the side of the wife of his youth. Beautiful flowers covered the grave of the friend and neighbor, highly esteemed for his mental and moral worth.

WEST PARIS.

A Narrow Escape.

Llewellyn Y. Lowe narrowly escaped a serious accident last week Thursday night. He left his work at S. T. White's at the usual time, half past five, to go to his home at North Paris and went to Richardson's blacksmith shop to get his team.

As he was driving down High street he heard an auto coming and turned out for it in the turn going into H. H. Wardwell's.

The auto had only a small light, the big head light was not lighted, so that neither could see plainly and the auto proved to be Mr. Wardwell's and as he turned into his home road he ran into Mr. Lowe's team.

The wagon was smashed up beyond repair, the horse cleared himself from it immediately, taking Mr. Lowe with him, who went out over the dasher in a hurry holding on to the reins. He let go of the reins soon after he landed in the road and the horse went with mad leaps through the village and was caught at Trap Corner, where it was thought it stepped on the reins and guided itself into a barn.

Mr. Lowe escaped serious injury except a shaking up and a lame side. Mr. Wardwell's auto too was damaged considerably.

Mrs. Chester Lane, jr., has been sick. Nellie Marshall, a trained nurse, has been with her.

Mrs. Josephine Bates spent a few days here last week with her son, Charles Bates, and wife.

Rev. L. W. Raymond and his daughter are receiving a visit from a friend, Miss Foss of Ocean Park.

The drama and sale under the auspices of the D. A. L. club to be held Nov. 7th has been indefinitely postponed.

Mrs. Sara Curtis went to Portland, Monday, for a visit of several weeks with her daughter, Mrs. F. S. Briggs.

Schools are deferred for another week and will commence again Nov. 18th, unless more cases of diphtheria break out.

Mr. and Mrs. J. F. Emerton of Auburn are visiting for a week or two at L. H. Penley's. Mr. Emerton is "chasing the fox" for his fall outing and vacation.

Fred Berry has sold all his cows but two and intends to give up dairy farming for a time. He also wishes to sell and buy a smaller farm, where one man can do the work.

Charles R. Briggs has purchased the Marshall farm at Trap Corner. Clarence E. Stearns, who has been occupying it, has purchased his father's farm on Stearns hill, and Eldron Stearns has purchased the Alley farm at Trap Corner.

Dr. F. H. Packard accompanied Elroy R. Davis to the C. M. G. hospital last Thursday, where he underwent a successful though serious operation for appendicitis. Mrs. Davis went down Saturday and spent Sunday with him.

Three new cases of diphtheria have appeared since last week's report in the Advertiser. Mrs. R. T. Flavin took it from caring for her two youngest children, and Mrs. Carroll Bacon and her little daughter Margaret. Mrs. Flavin has suffered the worst of any. She has Mrs. Ring of Portland caring for her. All the others are doing well.

Carlton Bacon of North Paris found on Oct. 30th, while roaming over the fields, some ripe strawberries and blossoms, specimens of which he brought to your reporter as worthy of notice. These surely were considering the lateness of the season. Our summer was called a cold season but the fall frosts held off wonderfully and gave us a much warmer fall season than usual and the above strawberry specimens give evidence of it.

Mrs. A. W. Bridge of Mechanic Falls, who fell down stairs and broke her shoulder while at the home of her brother, Henry Adams of Paris Hill, several weeks ago, came last week Wednesday to C. H. Lane's to be with her sisters, Mrs. Lane and Mrs. Abbott, until she is able to return to her home. Her cousin, Mrs. Bragg, who has been caring for her, came too. Charles Adams, her brother of Norway, brought them in his auto. All the brothers and sisters were assembled at Henry Adams' new home on his birthday for a reunion, and the day had scarcely begun for their enjoyment when the above accident occurred.

The Good Will society will hold its annual sale, chicken pie supper and entertainment at the Universalists church, Wednesday afternoon and evening, Nov. 20. The following committee were appointed:

Reception—Rev. and Mrs. D. A. Ball.
Fancy Work—Mrs. Mildred Davis, Mrs. Dora Jackson, Mrs. Eva Swift, Mrs. Leona Ridlon.
Aprons—Mrs. Clara Ridlon, Mrs. Hiram W. Dunham.
Candy—Mrs. Geo. Ridlon, Mrs. L. Turple.
Supper—Mrs. J. F. Reed, Mrs. F. H. Hill, Mrs. E. W. Penley, Mrs. C. E. Chase, Mrs. Phila Shedd.
Entertainment—Mrs. L. M. Mann, Delia Lane.
Decorations—Mrs. H. R. Tuell.

Mrs. Mabel Lane went to the C. M. G. hospital at Lewiston for an operation for appendicitis, Wednesday morning. Nellie Marshall accompanied her.

Mrs. Albert L. Bowker is visiting her parents, Mr. and Mrs. Edward Stillwell. Mr. and Mrs. Bowker have been in Millsfield, N. H., camp watching forestry all summer. They came home to Bryant Pond to pack their household goods, and are going back there to spend the winter.

PARIS.

Mr. and Mrs. Charlie Shaw and Mr. and Mrs. Fred Verrill from Auburn were guests at Mr. and Mrs. Fred W. Shaw's over Sunday.

There was a big crowd at Harlow's dance, Saturday night. There will not be any more at present until he gets his fall work done.

Arthur S. Hall of North Buckfield will give a series of dancing lessons in this village provided a sufficient number of pupils can be obtained.

Annie Parris has returned from North Norway where she has been working for the past five weeks. She is working in the toy shop at South Paris now.

A party of 14, members of Hamlin Temple, Pythian Sisters, South Paris, visited the Temple at Yarmouthville, Wednesday evening, by special invitation. Mrs. Abbie Abbott, Mrs. Clara Ryerson and Mrs. Kate Hammond of Paris Hill were in the party. They went down on the express, arriving there about 6 o'clock. A fine supper was served them about 7 o'clock, after which a nice entertainment was given in the lodge room, followed by a social time with music and games. They were most royally entertained. Thursday morning eight of the party took the electrics into Portland, returning home on the afternoon train, all agreeing that they had enjoyed every minute.

CARD OF THANKS.

The undersigned desire to tender their sincere thanks for themselves and in behalf of other relatives, for many kind services and attentions of Waterford friends on the occasion of their late bereavement and funeral of their mother, Mrs. Sarah J. Sanderson.

GEORGE E. SANDERSON.

South Waterford, Nov. 4, 1912.

SOUTH WATERFORD.

Mrs. Sarah Jane (Young) Sanderson.

Mrs. Sarah Jane (Young) Sanderson, widow of the late John Sanderson of Groton, Mass., died at her home in Medway, Mass., Oct. 31. The remains of the deceased were brought to Waterford for interment in Elmvale Cemetery, and the funeral observances were held at the Union church with appropriate service of pastor Rev. G. W. Sias and church choir.

Mr. and Mrs. Sanderson were both natives of Waterford. He was a son of Col. John Sanderson and grandson of Stephen Sanderson, one of the pioneer settlers of the town, who came from Littleton, Mass., in 1788, and settled in the southwest part of the town near Sweden.

Mrs. Sanderson was a daughter of George and Lovesta (Hale) Young, born July 1834. She married John Sanderson in 1852, and settled first in Waterford where her four children were born. They lived in Waterford about 17 years and removed to Templeton, Mass., about 1870; thence to Groton, where Mr. Sanderson died in 1884. She soon after removed to Medway, where she continued to reside the remainder of her life.

During the years past, Mrs. Sanderson has had the companionship of some one of her children or grandchildren and was also the object of the care and attention of kind near neighbors, but at the time of her death she was alone. It is believed by those who discovered her decease that it was peaceful and painless. Mrs. Sanderson was not a member of any church but was of the Unitirian belief.

The casket was adorned by beautiful offerings of floral pieces, the tributes of affectionate friends.

The attendance of voters at the polls on Tuesday was rather slim, only 204 votes being cast of a possible 300.

Mrs. Belle Hapgood was entertaining as a visiting guest last Friday, her friend, Mrs. Mabel Slone and little daughter, Muriel of Norway.

May Mayberry of Newhall, Windham, is a boarding guest of Mrs. Martha Sawin and was a visitor of Bear Mountain Grange at the last meeting.

Two attendants at the session of the Congregational Conference at North Waterford, last Thursday were Mrs. Freeman Hapgood and Mrs. C. P. Riggs.

The Hallowe'en Ball announced to be given Nov. 1 but postponed on account of the rainstorm, came off with great satisfaction to all concerned, on Tuesday evening, Nov. 5. The proscenium of the hall was profusely decorated with all necessary paraphernalia of suggestive objects supposed to to be appropriate to the night when witches ride abroad astride of broom sticks and black cats contribute their score of hideous accompaniments of the occasion by all the demonstrations belonging to a first-class caterwaul. That is the best interpretation that occurs to your reporter. But the whole scheme of decoration reflects much credit on the committee who conceived and executed it and evinced the possession of a superior gift of ideallty. The music was superb as usual and the ladies and miss challenged the admiration of all spectators by their elegance of costumes and general loveliness. Refreshments of ice cream were served at intermission.

BRYANT POND.

A STONE ROOFING

A good many people say and some people really think that none of the manufactured roofings are durable. Now this is a great mistake. A roofing that is composed of Asbestos and Portland Cement is practically everlasting. If you wish to pay the price, which is not very high either, you can have a roofing that will last as long as the Pyramids. As the philosophic John D. Rockefeller says about Sunday School, "The more you put in, the more you can take out."

J-M Asbestos Roofing is literary a sheet of pliable stone—with the rust-proof, rot-proof, acid-proof and lasting qualities of stone and with the fire-proof quality of Asbestos. And—like all stone—it never need painting.

We are agents for all grades of H. W. Johns-Manville Co's Asbestos Roofings and can furnish them for any desired price. Call and see the roofings or ask for samples and prices.

What To Eat In the Woods.

A veal loaf is always appetizing in the woods. An excellent receipt is: Three pounds and a half of finely chopped veal—the leg is best—mixed with three well beaten eggs, into which is stirred a grated nutmeg, a tablespoon each of black pepper, thyme and salt, a teaspoonful of onion juice and a dash of cayenne. Add three tablespoons of cream and three water crackers rolled fine. Mix in a long loaf, dot with butter and bake about an hour in a moderate oven, basting frequently.

Veal loaf may be sliced thin and packed in paraffin paper in a flat box but dried out less if taken to the picnic whole. Carry a sharp carving knife, as thick slices are unappetizing.

Deviled eggs are usually more popular than plain hard boiled ones. Boil the eggs fully half an hour, throw at once into cold water and do not shell until chilled. Cut the eggs in half lengthwise run the yolk through a seive and mix to a paste with a salt spoon of mustard, cayenne pepper, salt and a tablespoon of finely chopped parsley to a dozed eggs. Oil or melted butter can be used for mixing the paste.

Deviled eggs carry better if both halves are filled, than put together and each egg wrapped in waxed paper. Or they can be put in a shallow tin box near the ice on reaching the picnic grounds.

If each one brings a certain allotted portion, one could take fresh eggs for scrambling—allow three for each person—a small preserve glass of butter, salt and pepper and a skillet or a chafing dish, whichever is more convenient.

Nothing is better than fresh scrambled eggs at a picnic unless it is fried potatoes. Boil the potatoes at home—in their jackets—and take a good supply of butter for frying. A pound can be carried in a tin kettle and ice packed around it. Have a sharp knife for slicing and a fork or shortcake turner for stirring.

Left over chicken or veal make an excellent hot dish for a picnic. Cut the meat into small cubes at home and wrap in waxed paper. Make a white sauce from a tablespoon of butter and one of flour to every pint of milk. This is the allowance for a quart of meat. Season highly with salt, pepper and a little onion juice.

An appetizing sandwich for a picnic is made from slices of brown bread on which is spread a mixture of chopped green peppers, to which is added a can of sweet peppers or pimentos, a little minced parsley, bound together with a highly seasoned mayonnaise.

Where a hot sandwich is liked for a picnic, have two thin slices of white bread buttered; spread one with a little chutney, the other with grated Parmesan cheese. Fry a egg, place it on the cheese, and press the other half well over it.

WOMEN SHOULD BE PROTECTED

Against So Many Surgical Operations. How Mrs. Bethune and Mrs. Moore Escaped.

Sikeston, Mo.—"For seven years I suffered everything. I was in bed for four or five days at a time every month, and so weak I could hardly walk. I cramped and had backache and headache, and was so nervous and weak that I dreaded to see anyone or have anyone move in the room. The doctors gave me medicine to ease me at those times, and said that I ought to have an operation. I would not listen to that, and when a friend of my husband told him about Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound and what it had done for his wife, I was willing to take it. Now I look the picture of health and feel like it, too. I can do my own housework, hoe my garden, and milk a cow. I can entertain company and enjoy them. I can visit when I choose; and walk as far as any ordinary woman, any day in the month. I wish I could talk to every suffering woman and girl."—Mrs. DEMA BETHUNE, Sikeston, Mo.

Murrayville, Ill.—"I have taken Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound for a very bad case of female trouble and it made me a well woman. My health was all broken down, the doctors said I must have an operation, and I was ready to go to the hospital, but dreaded it so that I began taking your Compound. I got along so well that I gave up the doctors and was saved from the operation."—Mrs. CHARLES MOORE, R. R. No. 3, Murrayville, Ill.

FRYEBURG.

Samuel Osgood Wiley.

Samuel Osgood Wiley died in Bridgton, Thursday, Oct. 31st. He lived in Fryeburg until 10 years ago when he moved to Bridgton. He was the son of Seth Wiley and Susan Osgood Wiley. He was twice married. His first wife was Miss Eastman of Conway and his second wife, Mrs. Rhoda Smart Jones, who survives him. There was one daughter by the first wife who died at 16 years. He was sent to the legislature in the '80's and was a prominent Mason, being Master of the lodge. He was a grandson of Capt. Samuel Osgood of East Conway.

He, with Lieut. Robert Peary, were descended from Wm. Wiley, one of the first settlers in the town. He has served the towns of Fryeburg and Bridgton, faithfully.

Jennie Chase has returned home from a two weeks' vacation.

Dr. S. C. Gordon has closed his summer home on Main street.

Hanson L. Chapman has a large parsnip on exhibition which measures 19 inches in length and 17 inches in circumference and weighs 4½ lbs.

On account of bad weather, Winnie Wood and Mr. Reynolds of Portland did not get as much game as they hoped to while staying with Moses J. Chapman.

Miss Crimlis, Mr. and Mrs. Philip Flynn and two children, who have been stopping with Sheridan Fox for two weeks, have returned to their home in Boston.

New Path Up Mount Royce.

Oxford County Mountain Peak Has Been Made Accessible to Tourists and Sightseers Willing to Brave Hardships on Foot.

In a note from the librarian of the Appalachian Mountain Club, Allen H. Bent, to Dr. Harry W. Tyler, councillor of improvements, the former announces that Mount Royce, one of the most interesting of the lower summits of the White Mountains, has been made more accessible by means of a spotted trail.

The path to Royce which has been cut by Mr. Bent together with John L. Chandler of North Chatham, is about four miles in length, half the way following old logging roads often beside and never far from the Cold River, here of brook size. It enters by the same way as the Evans Notch trail, and in a mile and a quarter the paths diverge. Both paths are marked by signs. A quarter of a mile beyond, a steep logging road on the left, marked by the word "Path," should be taken, and the climbing begins. In about an eighth of a mile is the lower fall of Mad Brook, just off the path to the left and in less than a mile the road comes to an end. Here a spotted trail must be followed. The route is steep and tortuous but is always interesting.

Another mile or so brings one to the goal between the two peaks, and from there it is half a mile to the east summit. There is here an Appalachian Mountain Club cylinder and near the top, well marked, is a fine spring of water. The view is not so extended as from South Baldface, but it is nevertheless one of the finest prospects in the White Mountains.

Named for Frenchmen.

Royce is one of three mountains to be honored by a name on Holland's map of New Hampshire (1784), the other two being Moat and Mooselock (Moosilauke). Nothing has been found about the naming of it but as Lieut. Vera Royce, a surveyor and soldier of the French and Indian wars, was one of the large grantees of the adjoining town of Bartlett in 1769 and was living in the neighborhood in 1776, it was probably named after him.

This peak is part of the mountain wall that runs northward from Kearsarge and Doublehead to the Androscoggin. From Kearsaage there stretches away the wilderness unbroken by roads, save where the Dundee drive impinges on its western border, and in this region bounded by the Carter Range and the Androscoggin are many interesting summits.

Under the eastern wall of the general group lies the lovely Chatham Valley, in the vernacular of the natives, Chatham. The postoffice of North Chatham in New Hampshire, just on the border of Maine, is 15 or 16 miles from Fryeburg, over a good road which extends about four miles farther and then abruptly ends. One may gain this secluded valley from North Conway over Hurricane Mountain road, through the southern of the Chatham villages.

Far north in the narrow cut are a few scattered boarding houses of modest mein, that of Chandler among them, from whose dooryard almost starts the path to the Appalachian reservation on the summit of the South Baldface. The country to this point is a tangle of mountains familiar to but few; Double Head excepted, which, of course, every one who goes to Jackson knows exceedingly well by sight, then Sable and Eastman with Black, their vis-a-vis to the West, across the valley of the south-flowing east branch of the Saco. To the north and bearing around to north-northeast the range continues through the two Baldfaces and Mt. Meader, which parallel the distant Carter range across the valley of the north-flowing Wild River.

Entrance into this section from Jackson is easy through the Perkins Notch and is an Appalachian winter jaunt or two have gone far enough into this country on snow shoes to reach the lumber railway that is tributary to the Grand Trunk Ry. Northeast of Meader is Royce with its two summits, reaching out its spurs to the banks of the Wild River. Five or six miles farther north is Gilead, Me., on the Androscoggin and the Grand Trunk.

Great Cold River in Maine.

The Chatham country that is visable from the highway is bordered to the east by the Great Cold River, whole tributary brooks finger up into the Royce highlands with other companions coming down from Meader and the Baldfaces. The great part of its course is, however across the boundary in Maine, in Stow.

From the northern end of the eastern fork of the road, which here crosses into Maine, there is a path of about seven miles in length which leads through the Evans Notch between Royce and Speckled Mountains—not to be confounded with the similarly named peak in the Grafton Notch—to the little settlement of Hastings at the confluence of Evans Brook and the Wild River, whence it is three miles and one-half, over good road to Gilead. The southern half of this path, which is none too plainly marked, gives glimpses of the giant cliffs on Mount Royce.

Mount Baldface, the top of which has been an Appalachian reservation for ten years, is directly west of North Chatham, and its attractions merit more frequent appreciation of pedestrians. It has one of the most extended and fairest prospects in all the north country. It is easily to be reached from Chandler's. The writer once gained its top in a couple of hours from the road, and it is a tramp that well repays the effort. The path is to a considerable extent over ledges which give views on every side. From the summit Mount Washington over Wildcat and Adams through the Carter Notch are particularly striking. Mountains fill two-thirds of the horizon, while the other third is taken up by the lakes and valleys of Maine, none more beautiful than the long stretch of Chatham Valley at its foot.

Both from the valley and from the top of Baldface, Royce, with its dark-gray cliffs and deep evergreens, exerts a fascinating charm which increases with acquaintance.

Mount Royce is Little Known.

In all the mass of White Mountain literature Mr. Bent has been able to find only three references to Mount Royce.

Sweetser, the editor of the Osgood guide book alludes to its summits as "great rounded masses of dark rock, weirdly picturesque toward evening."

In the third volume of Appalachia, 1883, there is an interesting account of the whole region, including the view from Mount Royce by Miss M. M. Pychowska, who with her uncle, Eugene B Cook, then Appalachian councillor of exploration, had climbed it the preceding summer. She expresses a hope that it would not "always be left to the bears and other berry hunters, for besides its own beauty of structure, it is a fine viewpoint.

A. L. Goodrich, afterwards councillor of exploration and well known to all good Watervillians, had climbed Royce two years before and gave a short account of his experience in Appalachia in March, 1866. "The ascent of Mount Royce," he writes, "Is a favorite recreation of mine. It is an odd mountain. It appears to be built of four immense steps. If it were higher or more isolated, so that it could be got in profile, it would show an outline much like the Giants' Stairs. He better practice in climbing of ledges can be got in the White Mountains short of the Presidential Range." He notes further that on the southern face of the mountain on Mad Brook there are falls of more than ordinary beauty situated in rocky gorges well worth a visit on their own account. They are seventy feet or so in height, beautiful at almost any season, but magnificent after a heavy rain.

Notwithstanding the enthusiasm of these early explorers, Mr. Bent finds that Mount Royce is rarely climbed.

Peak 3,125 Feet High in Maine.

The east summit, which is in Maine, is 3125 feet in height. Since the floor of the valley is low, not above 509 feet, the height of this peak compares well with the guardians of more elevated resorts like Crawford's or the Profile House.

DEMAND FOR TRAINED MEN

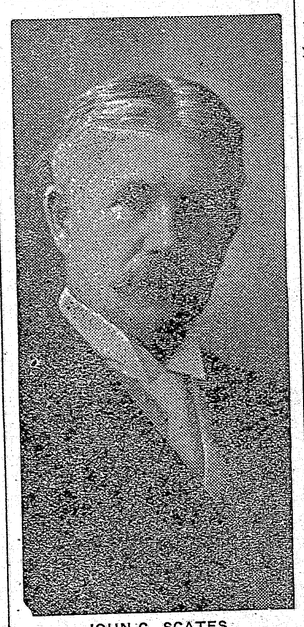

Great Era of Highway Development Is Now at Hand

WASTE OF PUBLIC FUNDS

Could Be Eliminated by Establishment of Course In Highway Engineering and Construction In University of Maine—John C. Scates' Timely Suggestion

(John C. Scates)

Should the University of Maine establish a course in highway engineering and construction? It is practically a state institution, deriving a large part of its funds from the state—$100,000 annually. Such a course would be productive of more real benefit to the state than any other course in its curriculum, besides being of great advantage to many of its students. The state and nation are entering a great era of highway development somewhat similar to that of the railroads of half a century ago. In the next few years there is destined to be a lively demand for men who have a scientific knowledge of highway construction, for the primitive, crude and wasteful methods of today must be supplanted by a more economical and intelligent system. Our own state has just voted by an overwhelming majority for the appropriation of $2,000,000 for highway construction.

JOHN C. SCATES.

There is no department of the public service where so much of the public fund is wasted as in the construction and maintenance of our highways. It is unquestionably safe to state that thirty percent of the money now expended on the roads of Maine is dissipated. This means an annual destruction of more than $500,000, which amount might just as well be gathered into one pile and burned. The time is coming when the public will fully appreciate this fact, and then there will be evolved a system somewhat similar and as efficient as that adopted by our railways. Trained men will be necessary to put such a plan into execution. We have training schools for our teachers and those engaged in nearly every other vocation, why not for our road builders?

It must be remembered that the state highway department has absolutely no control or voice over seventy-five percent of the highway expenditures, being entirely devoid of the least semblance of authority in the matter of maintenance. Men having such a training would have a technical knowledge of the value of road building material. In the construction of a macadam road, certain varieties of stone are good while others are absolutely worthless. Some are suitable for the lower courses while worthless for the top or last course. Only an analysis can determine their respective values. The same is true of the bitumens and gravels.

The field is full of civil, railroad, and electrical engineers, but there can rarely be found a competent man with the necessary technical knowledge of highway engineering. Cities, counties and states are appropriating millions for roads with no one to properly direct the expenditure. Especially is this true in the South and West. Here is a field full of opportunities for the young man with the requisite knowledge.

Besides, the University of Maine could do no greater service to the state than to establish such a course. It certainly is a subject that should receive the serious consideration of the faculty.

A Sick Man

S. B. Hartman, M. D.

Writes Dr. Hartman About Kidney Disease.

A gentleman writes me: "I was greatly interested in your article describing the Kauffman case of serious disease of the kidneys. The description of his case exactly outlines my condition. I am sure if Peruna cured him as you say, it would cure me also. I am losing flesh rapidly and the doctors say I have every symptom of Bright's disease of the kidneys. If you think I would be benefited by Peruna I will certainly try some as the doctors have practically given me up, the same as they did him."

In reply I wish to say, first, that I never make any promises as to what Peruna will cure. No physician can make positive statements of that sort. I can say this much, however, if I were in your place I should certainly give Peruna a trial. I know of no other remedy that would be so likely to be of use to you in your present condition as Peruna. Take a tablespoonful before each meal and at bedtime. Continue this for two or three weeks and then if there is anything you wish to ask me further write me and I will give your letter prompt attention.

If I find that the Peruna is not helping you I will be perfectly frank and tell you so, for I would not have you take Peruna unless it was really helping you. But it has rescued so many cases of kidney disease that I am quite confident you will find it exactly suited to your case.

Kidney disease begins with catarrh of the kidneys. Peruna is a catarrh remedy. Unless the destruction of the kidneys is already too great Peruna relieves the catarrh and the cause of the kidney disease is removed.

I shall anxiously await a report of your case. Remember, all letters are sacredly confidential. I never use any one's name or address without his written consent. My correspondence is absolutely private. PERUNA IS FOR SALE AT ALL DRUG STORES.

SPECIAL NOTICE—Many persons are making inquiries for the old-time Peruna. To such would say, this formula is now put out under the name of KA-TAR-NO, manufactured by KA-TAR-NO Company, Columbus, Ohio. Write them and they will be pleased to send you a free booklet.

What the squirrel likes is a wood in the country, where he can climb any number of trees to his heart's content, and least on nuts, bark, buds and seeds, also an occasional egg or a young bird, to his stomach's content. The squirrel hibernates in winter as a rule, but if the weather is mild, often wakes up and cuts a dash. He provides for such occasions by laying by a store of provisions before he turns in for his winter sleep. Squirrels when mating build a nest, known as "drey." The young ones usually appear in June.

The Kind You Have Always Bought

Bears the Signature of Chas. H. Fletcher

An East Sumner Bear.

We saw a flock of wild geese with about one hundred in it going straight north. Pretty late in the season for them to be going in that direction, Oct. 27th.

While I was in search of ginsing in the vicinity of Mud pond in Peru and not far from Tumble Down Dick mountain the first of August, I tracked a large bear quite a distance on an old logging road, but said nothing to anyone about it.

About three weeks later I met Harry Dudley on the Buckfield road. He said they had heard a bear several nights, and that there had been a number of sheep killed recently near where he lives on a farm with Sammy Keene in South Hartford.

Mr. Dudley invited Harold Spaulding and me and our bear dog to spend a few days with him, but at that time we could not accept the invitation.

Not long after this meeting took place Charles Buck's son was driving on the Buckfield road with four horses hitched to a heavy load, and a large bear came into the road not more than eight rods away and stopped to gaze at the team and its driver.

As luck would have it Ben Gerrish, a Buckfield business man who buys beef cattle, fat hogs, poultry, apples or any old thing anywhere, popped around the turn in the road very suddenly in his little red auto and Mr. Bear made his escape for the woods close at hand. Mr. Gerrish said it was quite a Wild West show before they got the horses straightened out and ready to continue on their way. Yes, the horses were well frightened over the sudden appearance of Teddy and the boy who is yet in his teens. "Nuff sed."

Now to keep a good thing going, some one somewhere reported the very next day in a good natured kind of a way that Henry Davenport while in his orchard saw a bear in a sweet apple tree. Henry lost no time in making the house for his rifle and on his quick return taking good aim he emptied a couple 32 40 cartridges and his bearship fell to the ground a victim of heart trouble.

Now the readers will note this bear news becomes more serious as the good old autumn days roll along, and soon this one and that one began to call on that good natured specimen of humanity, Henry Davenport.

Will Crockett and Warren Lothrop of West Sumner drove over to see Henry's bear. While he was on his way home he met several going Henry's way but Will was sailing right along and had no time to talk about his visit at Henry's.

The next day, Henry, while driving, met two ladies not far from his place, who were bubbling over with joy and pleased to congratulate him as being the king of summer bear hunters, and certainly should wear the belt.

"By the way Henry what color is your bear?"

Henry replied, "He is black and white," and these poor innocent members of the gentle sex journeyed on to see the wonder.

Henry is no skim milk kid but is built of the goods that can turn a good joke any time.

Women as Well as Men are Made Miserable by Kidney and Bladder Trouble.

Kidney trouble preys upon the mind, discourages and lessens ambition; beauty, vigor and cheerfulness soon disappear when the kidneys are out of order or diseased.

Kidney trouble has become so prevalent that it is not uncommon for a child to be born afflicted with weak kidneys. If the child urinates too often, if the urine scalds the flesh, or if, when the child reaches an age when it should be able to control the passage, it is yet afflicted with bed-wetting, depend upon it, the cause of the difficulty is kidney trouble, and the first step should be towards the treatment of these important organs. This unpleasant trouble is due to a diseased condition of the kidneys and bladder and not to a habit as most people suppose.

Women as well as men are made miserable with kidney and bladder trouble, and both need the same great remedy. The mild and the immediate effect of Swamp-Root is soon realized. It is sold by druggists, in fifty-cent and one-dollar size bottles. You may have a sample bottle by mail free, also a pamphlet telling all about Swamp-Root, including many of the thousands of testimonial letters received from sufferers who found Swamp-Root to be just the remedy needed. In writing Dr. Kilmer & Co., Binghamton, N. Y., be sure and mention this paper. Don't make any mistake, but remember the name, Dr. Kilmer's Swamp-Root, and the address, Binghamton, N. Y., on every bottle.

Constipated, and Don't Know It!

By Dr. True

It seems odd, but it is true, that you may be constipated and not know it.

You can see why it is. Take a glass and pour in water until full. If you keep on pouring in water after the glass is full, it will run over, but the glass stays full.

Just so with your bowels; they get full of waste matter, and then they pass off or expel from the body only about the same amount that goes into it in the form of food.

So you may have a movement of the bowels every day and yet there will remain waste matter that ought to be removed.

Give your bowels a gentle but thorough cleaning out and you'll feel great.

The prescription I used for this is put up and sold under the name of Dr. True's Elixir. Doctors and druggists use it in their own families. Costs but little and brings health to men, women and children. Tastes good. Works gently Remember the name, Dr True's Elixir. Price, 35c, 50c and $1.00.
